

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

—There is some talk of a party going to the Columbian Exposition, but the hot weather, the hard times, the expense of the trip and the unfavorable reports that have been received through the press, have prevented many who otherwise would have gone from visiting the Fair.

—Yesterday was county court day, with a smart sprinkling of people in town; a small bunch of reasonably good cattle on the market; the weather intensely warm and the ground dry and dusty. No fruit on the trees; not a sign of an apple, and the peaches are few and far between.

—John Weber, of Louisville, has been appointed Indian hat inspector. The government furnishes to each Indian a hat, varying in price from 39 to 59 cents each. A big Indian ought to have a plug in proportion to his rank, even if it cost a nickel or two more than those selected for the ordinary bucks.

—When 11 out of 15 of the banks, of Denver shut up shop, the papers proclaim in flaming headlines, "The worst is over." This is quite likely. And so may the man whose house has been burned, leaving only the smoke-house, chicken coop and kitchen, say to his neighbor, "The worst is over."

—So it seems the impression is that Great Britain is likely to get the better of the United States in the Behring Sea case. The long winded speeches of the American counsel do not appear to have created a favorable impression corresponding with their length. One attorney spoke over a week, and if his breath had held out, would probably be speaking yet. He evidently thought he was a member of the Kentucky constitutional convention and his chief duty was to kill time and make a monkey of himself.

—Why either gold or silver be allowed to disturb the peace, happiness and tranquility of a people boasting of their civilization and christian standing is not easy of solution. Neither of the so-called "precious metals" can be used for either food and raiment, and yet they are treated by saint and sinner as being paramount in importance to everything on earth and everything in Heaven. The constitution of the United States provides that Congress shall have the power "to coin money, regulate the value thereof, and of foreign coin, and fix the standard of weights and measures." This provision does not restrict Congress to the use of gold or silver in coining money. Coinage means "pieces of metal stamped and made legally current as money." There is a provision in the constitution that "No State shall coin money, nor make anything but gold and silver coin a tender in payment of debts," but this in no wise affects the power of Congress in respect to money. It would seem therefore that Congress can make anything a legal tender, and if this be so, why not try copper? Why should gold or silver be regarded as more valuable than wheat, or corn, or something wherewith to clothe the person?

Slightly Mixed.

The editor of a weekly journal lately lost two of his subscribers through accidentally departing from the beaten track in his answer to correspondents. Two of his subscribers wrote to ask him his remedy for their respective troubles. No. 1, a happy father of twins, wrote to inquire the best way to get them over their teething, and No. 2 wanted to know how to protect his orchard from the myriads of grasshoppers. The editor framed his answers upon the orthodox lines, but unfortunately transposed their names, with the result that No. 1, who was blessed with twins, read, in reply to his query, "Cover them carefully with straw and set fire to them, and the little pests, after jumping about in the flames a few minutes, will be speedily settled." While No. 2, plagued with grasshoppers, was told to "Give a little castor oil and rub their gums gently with a bone ring."—Boston Traveler.

The Danville Fair.

The Danville Fair this year—beginning August 1 and continuing 4 days—will be one of the best in the Blue-grass. Besides three trotting races each day, there will be one grand $300 premium for sweepstakes saddle stallions, one $100 premium for saddle mares and geldings. The big premium closed with 21 entries. This will be the most sensational saddle ring ever seen in Kentucky. The Cincinnati Southern Railroad will run excursion trains to the Fair at one fare for the round-trip, every day except the first, and the Louisville Southern will sell round-trip tickets from all stations at the same rate. The track is very fast and the grounds are cool and shady. Secretary Sam Lyons promises a royal time to all who attend.

are caused by microbes in the blood. Take Stockton's Antiseptic; it kills microbes and cleanses the blood of all impurities. It is your own fault now if you suffer or allow your little ones to suffer when Stockton's Antiseptic will cure it so quickly. A. R. Penny, Druggist, Stanford, has it.

FREE TURNPIKES.

Mr. Sergeant Rushes in Where Angels Fear to Tread to Advocate Them.

WALNUT FLAT, July 24.—In your issue of July 18, Mr. Miller has a long article on free turnpikes. He deals in sharp language and bombastic statements, but as to the real question he never reaches the point. In answering him I will not impugn the character or motives of any one, but will try and discuss the matter in a fair and manly way that admits the rights of every free man to advocate what he pleases without being accused of all the crimes on the criminal calendar, or known among the slums of Bowery.

Can Lincoln county have a system of free turnpikes and maintain them is now being agitated. Some say she can't without bankruptcy; others say she can. She can for we have the men who can manage them as well as other States do and the men who say we can't certainly cast a slur on the manhood of old Lincoln. Now it will take money to make the pikes and where it is to come from is the first point to discuss and when that is found the rest is easily settled. The assessed value of all kinds of property in the county is nearly $5,000,000 exclusive of her railroad property, which is nearly $1,200,000, making, say, $6,200,000 of property she has to tax. Mr. Miller says we can't go in debt over 2 per cent. of the total valuation and I am in favor of staying inside of that amount. Now 2 per cent. of that amount would be $120,000 and if Mr. Miller could find us in that fertile brain of his a way to tax that $400,000 worth of turnpike stock he claims there is in Lincoln county, we could easily issue bonds for $150,000 and still keep inside of the limit. Then with that money we could easily construct 75 miles of new pikes and wait for the charters of these rich pikes to run out and where the county owns nearly all of them, buy them up. In some of these companies the stock is held by stock investors, who would be glad to part with same at $100 per share. I mean those pikes in the East where I am acquainted with their market value. Now, Mr. Editor, what amount of tax would be necessary to pay off the interest on these bonds and pay general expenses? We now pay 24 cents on the hundred dollars, that is for paying cash for work done the county. Now the interest on $125,000 at 6 per cent. is $7,500 and $4,000 paid into the sinking fund each year would make $11,500. That would have to be raised on account of the pike bonds; $3,500 would keep these pikes in repair and $1,000 would pay expense of collection, so there is where the money comes from and 20 cents more on the hundred dollars will pay it. Now the toll paid is a larger tax than that.

What do the turnpikes cost Lincoln county? Mr. Miller says there are 162 miles of McAdamsized roads and he says it will cost $100 per mile on an average to keep up the repairs on same, which makes $16,200. Now the gate-keepers number nearly 30 and they cost about $100 a year for each gate, making $3,000 a year. Now add the dividends and salaries and we have nearly $25,000 a year collected from the people who use the roads, a sum that would pay the tax necessary to pike all the main roads in the county in 10 years. So you see, Mr. Miller, there is a big pike tax collected each year according to your figures and they are nearly correct, you say.

The pikes now in use were built partly by the county and were chartered for a period of years, generally 25, and many of them will soon be out and then there will be no need for the county to purchase their stock. The stockholders put their money in for the express purpose of running the road for these years and the county has the perfect right to refuse to continue the same if it wants to do so when that period expires and no one can say it has broken a single promise or contract.

Mr. Miller grows very sympathetic over the fact that Crab Orchard, Highland and Waynesburg precincts only have about 20 miles of pike road. They paid their money for those roads and for many miles more in the other parts of old Lincoln and they have paid their toll when they traveled away from home. They are now willing to continue to pay on these pikes, but want old Lincoln to build no more private pikes for her poor people to travel on.

Now Mr. Miller says, or reasons that way, that those who use a good thing should pay for same. Do they? Now everyone who has had anything to do with pike affairs can say, "No, they do not all pay." When we take note of all who attend funerals in town with bugles full of marketing, those who beat their way under one sham and another and the directors and their families who ride free, we will see that nearly one-fourth of the travel over the pikes is now free. And then there is a vast amount of hauling done between gates that is never paid for and for the payment of which there is no law. So you see, kind tax-payer, there are lots of free work going on now, but under the system of free pikes every one would bear his fair share of the burdens.

Mr. Miller says it will take nearly $100 per mile to keep the pikes in repair each year. I think if there was anything near that amount used on the Crab Orchard and Stanford pikes, east of the court-house in Stanford, last year, it must have been spent last winter in deepening ruts and extending lagoons on said road.

The Hustonville and Stanford pike, one of the best in the county, was kept in order, so Mr. Miller says, for $60 per mile; say $600 for one year for ten miles of road. The stock in that road pays nearly 6 per cent. dividend. Where did that money come from? Was it given to Mr. Cash and his able board of directors? No sir; it came off of the rich and poor alike and was a tax more grievous than any other that can be levied, for the gate keepers would not let any one pass unless the change was presented, even if his family had to suffer.

Much could be said about the ways of beating gate keepers, but I will close now.

H. SERGEANT.

ROUND ROCK, Texas, July 20.—I am in Texas, in the southwest part, and am doing the best I can. I left Kentucky the 12th of July last and have been in Cuba and Mexico; traveled 4,000 miles, and have tried to preach 200 times. Religion is making a bad stand where I have been. The strong man holds the strings and pride and foolishness are at the end. I have found 32 sects in my travels that pretend to be the church of Christ and will not let Christ in them. If God were to come to them He would have to crouch and take off His hat and bow to some idol, or back up and leave His moral vineyard. If Christ were to come back in the flesh He would have to join a Catholic church; Peter would have to join a hardshell Baptist; John a Missionary Baptist, or they would send him back to the Isle of Patmos; Paul would have to join a Campbellite church, or they would imprison him, for he declares ordinances abolished five times. But the Sectarians use water baptism for the remission of sins, and that leaves the gospel of Christ out. So put this in your paper and let it be known I am not dead.

—One of the most prominent millers in the Northwest says that with wheat at 50 cents a bushel, flour ought to retail at $1.75 per hundred pounds.

—The Somerset News-Letter tells of the death in Chicago of little Gladys, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Fitzpatrick. Mrs. Fitzpatrick was Miss Bertie Hicks, of Somerset.

—The Maharaja of Kapurthala, with a party of officials from India, have arrived to attend the World's Fair. It is to be regretted that the M. of K. brought only one of his numerous wives.

—Fireworks came near causing the destruction of the Manufactures' building at the World's Fair Saturday night, and hereafter if fireworks are allowed on the grounds at all it will only be at a safe distance from the big buildings.

—Mrs. L. P. Hunt, of Mankato, Minn., has collected and classified more than 800 varieties of the wild flowers of the State, and they will be shown in swinging vases at the World's Fair. A collection of 125 varieties of grasses found in Minnesota will also be exhibited.

—Ten thousand acres of timber have been destroyed by forest fires in the vicinity of Buffalo, Wyo., and the flames are still raging. At Fort McKinney, near Buffalo, for days past the temperature has been 112 in the shade and from 130 to 150 in the sun, and no rain has fallen for nine weeks.

—We shall soon hear of National banks resuming. There are comparatively few institutions forced to suspend under panic conditions that are not absolutely solvent. These will be able to resume whenever common sense takes the place of fright. Everybody knows, of course, that there is not a bank in the world that could pay every dollar it owes on demand. The same is true of business men. The question to be considered is whether financial institutions and firms are solvent.

A REDUCTION in World's Fair rates by the Queen & Crescent route. In addition to the regular World's Fair Excursion rates we will sell first-class excursion tickets, good 15 days from date of sale for return, at $5 less than the regular World's Fair rate. These tickets are good going via either Cincinnati or Louisville. Through cars to Chicago, quick time, most elegant equipment. Be sure and take the Queen & Crescent Route. For rates, schedules, sleeping car reservations, etc., call on any agent of the E. T. V. & G. Railway, Queen & Crescent Route or Louisville Southern R. R., or D. G. Edwards, G. P. A., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Here is a problem you may solve at your leisure: A farmer sells his wheat crop at 48 cents and receives in payment silver dollars. His home burns down and his silver dollars are melted into a mass, which he recovers and sells at the bullion value of 54 cents. How much per bushel does he get for his wheat?

DANVILLE.

—W. S. Downton is now a full-fledged applicant for the Danville post office and his papers are being signed by some mighty good people.

—There will be no nuisances of any kind permitted at the Danville Fair this year—no "skin" games, shooting galleries, baby racks, etc.; just an old-fashioned family affair.

—Mrs. Robert L. Ewell, of Louisville, is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. W. Guest. Miss Hattie Shumate is dangerously ill. Mr. Archie Robertson has gone to join his wife at Cottage City, Mass.

—Dan Lyons, formerly a member of the Danville base ball club, has been appointed to take charge of P. F. Collier's Branch Publishing House, at Troy, N. Y., at a salary of $2,500 per year.—Advocate.

—It is reported on very good authority that an English syndicate has bought the land about Cumberland Falls, Whitley county, and will at an early day erect an immense power house there, using the falls as a motive power, and furnish cities and manufacturing plants light and power at small expense. A part of the plan is to construct an electric railroad from the falls via Jellico and Williamsburg to a connection with the Cincinnati Southern.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—The Kansas City courts gave Austin Davis a divorce from his wife because she refused to leave Boston to live with him at his home.

—The Advocate, which has been counting their pretty noses, says there are 35 marriagable ladies in Danville, who are waiting for the right man to come along.

—July doesn't seem to be a popular month for marriages. Only one license has been issued so far. It has been too hot for the thoughts to turn even lightly to love.

—A Knott county couple, after living together 41 years and raising 11 children, and acquiring 600 acres of land, have discovered that marriage is a failure and secured a divorce.

—Harmon Marsh, aged 79 years, of Jackson, Mich., having lately secured a divorce from his 6th wife, announces that he will marry again as soon as he can secure a woman who will wed him.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—Elder Joseph Severance, Jr., will begin a protracted meeting at the Christian church at Preachersville, on August 10.

—Lemuel Stevenson, for 20 years a clown with Barnum's and other circuses, has connected himself with the Salvation Army at Springfield, Mo.

—The Paris Kentuckian says that Rev. H. C. Morrison's meeting at Curry Chapel, Harrison county, resulted in 50 additions.

—The Boston Herald says that the interruption of Sam Jones' sermon by a windstorm down south looks like a pretty clear case of similia similibus.

—The board of managers of the Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church has decided to petition Congress to repeal the Geary Chinese exclusion act on the ground of international justice.

—Dr. Charles A. Briggs, who was deposed for alleged heretical teachings, has refused to accept a testimonial of $50,000 on the ground that the trial has cost him nothing so far but delay in his literary work and waste of time and strength.

—The South Kentucky Association will be held at New Salem, Lincoln county, beginning Aug. 15; the South District at Junction City, Aug. 22; Tate's Creek at Tate's Creek, in Madison, Aug. 29, and Cumberland River at New Waynesburg Aug. 29.

—A dispatch from Parkville says that William Harris, a widower, not satisfied with desecrating the home of T. McAnally, has accepted every opportunity to taunt him upon the conduct of his wife. Friday Harris brought up the old scandal. McAnally made a remark which caused Harris to rush at him with a knife, but just then McAnally pulled a pistol and fired three shots in rapid succession, all of which took effect and will produce death.

—Mrs. Isaac Melloney, of Findlay, O., had a presentiment that her two daughters would be injured if they continued to sleep up stairs and after they had retired she requested them to get up and come down on the first floor for the night. The next morning the girls went to their room and found that a bolt of lightning had torn through the roof and pierced the centre of their bed.

—George Snively, of Columbus, O., a soldier in the late war, has positively refused to accept a pension. He was sent a voucher to fill out for $620 back pay, but he returned it, saying he had conscientious scruples about accepting the pension, as he was abundantly able to earn his own living.

—A man with one leg has ridden a bicycle from San Francisco to New York in 66 days, 9 hours and 45 minutes, knocking 20 days off the best record riders with two legs.

A REMARKABLE case is reported from Columbus, Ind., of a man refusing to accept a pension with $620 back pay, because he has conscientious scruples about his honesty since he was abundantly able to earn a living. Such characters are always so few and far between that when one is found he deserves to have his name written in apples of gold and pictures of silver. In contra distinction to this honest man is one whose position would induce the impression that he would not be guilty of so flagrant a filching from the treasury. Judge Long of the Michigan Supreme Court, furnishes indisputable evidence that he is a thief at heart and unworthy to sit in judgment on the rights and lives of the people who have honored him and who pay him a salary of $7,000. The pension rolls show that he is drawing $72 a month for total disability, having been advanced to that point by Tanner without warrant of law or semblance of excuse. An honest man is at the head of the pension bureau now and such frauds will no longer grow and flourish. Commissioner Lockren very promptly suspended Judge Long's pension as he will all others of such a character. It is a pity that Long and other like rogues can not be prosecuted for the offense and made to refund the amounts they have filched.

THE Louisville papers make one exceedingly weary this hot weather with the column after column that they devote to Collector Johnson and his doings. An outsider would imagine that he held the most important office in the land and that he is a very important personage himself, instead of being a common, every-day kind of a fellow, who did not win his spurs by his deserts. Won't our metropolitan contemporaries please give us a rest and cease to make the new collector think he is a "bigger man than old Grant." If they do not, there is danger that they will lose many valuable subscribers, besides running the risk of causing a repetition of the frog explosion business.

THE possibility of the American boy is again demonstrated by the career of Carroll D. Wood, who has just been nominated for associate justice of the Supreme Court of Arkansas. He educated himself by serving as a waiter in a private boarding-house while he attended the Industrial University. It may not be in the power of every boy to rise to such eminence as Mr. Wood, whose nomination is equivalent to an election, but earnest and persistent effort is always rewarded in this country where every man is supposed to be free and equal.

WHEN Miss Susie Swift graduated from Vassar, she did not make the capture of a beau the only aim in life, but enlisted in the Salvation Army in England. She soon proved such a valuable acquisition that she was promoted till now she ranks as major in Gen. Booth's battalion. We do not know that she is serving the Lord any better in her present capacity than she would in raising babies, but if she finds her work more congenial no member of the male persuasion will likely attempt to say her nay.

ONE of the questions discussed by the Negro Press Association, which met recently in Richmond, Va., was whether the word negro should be spelled with a capital or a lower case. It was finally resolved, however, and wisely at that, on motion of Rev. Mr. Cooley, that "too much importance is placed upon what we are called. Let us improve ourselves and allow the people to spell our name with a little 'n' or a big 'N' or any kind of 'end' that they wish to."

THE bank failures are striking a little closer home. The Kentucky National, of Louisville, suspended Saturday, but as it has been in a shaky condition for some time, the action was not unexpected and therefore created no alarm as to the solvency of the other institutions. The officers and directors say that depositors will be paid in full and if the published statement is to be relied on, they will.

CLARK COUNTY leads in the number of announced candidates. There are 34. Lincoln isn't a bad second, with her 20, and nearly every paper adding to the list. Democrats all over the country seem to have gone wild over holding office, State or Federal. Most of them would be a great deal better off in the long run and save many a heart ache by going to work and letting office go to the demagogue how wows.

It is dollars to doughnuts that it will be decided that Congressman Enock, of Ohio, died of heart disease, though the doctors at first said it was apoplexy that carried him off. He was a pensioner and it is proved that he died of the first named disease, his widow will get $30 a month, if of the latter but $8.

THE Junction City Times has gone the way of Brer T. H. Fox's other venture—that is to say it has ascended the flame. He's got a good government position now and newspapers no longer vex his patriotic soul. Evidently his Democrat and his Times did not fill long felt wants, nor did they apparently fill a want long felt by him.

WE have yet to hear a single argument presented by the advocates of free turnpikes that is worth considering. The chief reason that they want them seems to be to get something for nothing, by taxing those who have property. A good many of the same class would be as willing to tax other people, to get them free grub.

THE governor of California has appointed Ex-Governor Perkins to the vacancy in the U. S. Senate caused by the death of Senator Stanford. The appointee is a member of the firm of general agents for the Pacific Coast Steamship Line and is not recognized as a man of much force.

—James F. Wells, a blacksmith, who has a shop in Winchester, is said to have invented a machine, for which a patent is now pending, by means of which a steak from the neck of a work ox can be made tender and wholesome.

—Several trains are moving Eastward loaded with penniless laborers thrown out of work by the suspension of manufacturing and the closing of mines in Colorado. They are compelled to leave the State in search of employment.

—At Huntington, W. Va., Abe Tucker tried to kill his father with his knife, but cries from the old gentleman brought help and he was prevented. His excuse for attempting the rash deed was that he was tired supporting his father.

—There is a crank out West who proposes to be buried three months, at least. Indeed, he wants a crop of barley raised over him while he reposes beneath the soil. He proposes to reap fresh and well when the barley has been harvested.

—The widely known distillery firm of E. H. Taylor, Jr., & Co., of Frankfort has assigned. Liabilities are believed to be in the neighborhood of $100,000. Pressure of one or two creditors and the prevailing tightness of money are said to have caused the crash.

—Mexican war veterans of Kentucky are planning a reunion to be held in Louisville early next month. An excursion to Mexico will probably be made by the old soldiers. This State furnished four regiments and there is a large number of surviving veterans.

—Steve Elkins has undertaken to diagnose the financial case and give it as opinion that the country is suffering because it swallowed that big dose of Clevelandism last November. Doctors of the Elkins school will not be permitted to treat the case, however.—Louisville Times.

FARM AND TRADE ITEMS.

THE round-trip rate from here to the World's Fair is $12, tickets good for 15 days.

YOUR account is ripe, ready and waiting. Please call and settle. W. H. Wearen & Co.

FRANK JONES rode from Danville here on his bicycle the other afternoon in 38 minutes.

THE Junction City nine will play the Stanford kids at Water Works Park Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

THE Stanford colored nine defeated the Danville nine on the grounds here Friday afternoon by a score of 29 to 16.

S. H. ROUT, of the West End, sold to County Clerk G. B. Cooper four shares of Farmers Bank & Trust Co. stock at $120.

G. W. STEPHENS, of the firm of Stephens & Knox, had a valuable mare killed by the first section of freight train 35, Sunday night.

FOR SALE.—A nice pony, harness and pleasure cart. The cart is almost as good as new and the pony is gentle enough for any child can drive him. Jesse Thompson.

THE ladies of the Christian church at Preachersville will give a supper to-morrow, Wednesday night, for the benefit of the church. All are cordially invited.

THE gayly caparisoned horses that are seen about the streets are forcible reminders that the fair is upon us. The indications are that the show of stock will be unsurpassed.

THE Legislative candidates spoke at Waynesburg Saturday afternoon to a crowd of 28 persons, 14 of whom were candidates, so W. W. Hays, candidate for jailer, tells us.

FOR RENT.—The Bob Stuart house in Crab Orchard. It has three kitchens and three families can easily occupy it. It would be a delightful place to spend the summer months. Address John Buchanan, Crab Orchard.

THE committee selected to attend to it, Messrs. S. M. Owens and I. M. Bruce, tell us that the Fair ring, which is completed, is a daisy indeed. It is nearly an eighth of a mile and there is not a prettier show ring in the State.

THE Merry Bachelors are arranging for a hop, to be given at Walton's Opera House, Thursday night, 27th. It is intended to be a rather informal affair, but the welcome and attention that the guests will receive will be none the less cordial on that account.

A MAD DOG bit a fine bird dog belonging to Mr. J. A. Allen the other day and in a few hours he was frothing at the mouth. Mr. Allen did the proper thing by killing him before he did any damage. Col. Pete Hampton's pet canine was bitten by the same dog and he too was killed on short notice.

COL. T. E. BINN had the jail brigade on the streets Saturday pulling up weeds and doing other much needed cleaning up. After he completes his job Harry Giovannoli, of the Danville Advocate, is cordially invited to come over, when it is promised that he shall not again be taken for a "Jamestown weed."

THE following is the schedule of the special train, which will be run from Corbin to the Fair here Thursday and Friday next, at one fare for the round-trip: Leave Corbin at 6 a. m.; Lily 6:14; Fariston 6:22; London 6:33; Pittsburg 6:40; East Bernstadt 6:49; Altamont 6:53; Hazel Patch 7:05; Livingston 7:20; Sinks 7:28; Pine Hill 7:33; Mt. Vernon 7:44; Mareburg 7:50; Brodhead 8; Gum Sulphur 8:06; Crab Orchard 8:15; Maywood 8:27; Rowland 8:37. Arrive at Stanford at 8:42 a. m. Returning the train will leave after the fair is over and passengers will have the opportunity of seeing every ring.

THE other night Mun Owsley went to his home in Rowland and found Sam Lee, another negro, in bed with his wife. Mun did not quarrel about it, as some husbands probably would have done, but with his Barlow knife began to carve on Sam's head, the destroyer of his home and happiness. He is a much larger negro than Lee and he had him thoroughly at his mercy. Owsley's intention was to torture, not to kill him, so his knife was not used at much depth. He cut and cut till he thought he had gotten sufficient revenge and then let his victim go. Lee, who was nearly dead from loss of blood, sent for Dr. Amon, who at once began the big job of sewing up the wounds. By actual measurement the gashes on his body aggregated five feet in length, and it took 125 stitches to sew them up. Owsley skipped, but gave himself up Friday afternoon. His trial is set for next Saturday.

SAILOR hats for the Fair at Mrs. P. T. Courts'.

You may expect a call from us if you do not call yourself and settle at once. We want what you owe us. Severance & Son.

FRANK McKINNEY is the proud father of a girl. It arrived on Saturday night and the mother, Frank and the little one are all doing first rate. Mary Elizabeth is the name the young lady will wear.

FREE turnpikes will cost the people of Lincoln county $30,000 a year for many years in additional taxation. Hadn't we better continue to let well enough alone by making those who use the turnpikes pay for their maintenance.

DR. J. B. OWSELEY has 75 shares in the Kentucky National Bank, of Louisville, which suspended Saturday, and his bank had a balance there of $500 or $600. The latter will be paid in full and it is said the stockholders will get most of their money back.

Most people will only learn in the notice of its death that the Citizens National Bank of Jellico, Tenn., ever existed. It was a small concern of only $15,000 capital, but it followed the fashion and "busted" Saturday. Liabilities $35,000; assets in paper $55,000.

THE L. & N. will sell round trip tickets from all stations between Louisville and London to Lebanon Fair at one fare for round trip. Tickets on sale July 24 to 28 inclusive, good returning July 29th. Will also run a special train leaving Rowland at 7:30 a. m., July 25 to 28, returning leave Lebanon each day after the races are over. W. W. Penn, T. P. A.

In this issue Mr. O. P. Huffman formally announces himself a candidate for jailer. Born a democrat, a worker for the party from his youth and as clever a gentleman as lives, Mr. Huffman would fill the office creditably and well. He has never been a candidate and may not be up with the times in canvassing for votes, but he would be mighty thankful for your support and promises you shall not regret it if you vote for him.

DROWNED.—Joe Lawson, aged 15, was drowned in Patrick's Cave, where it opens into Dix River, Sunday. He had, with several other boys, been picking berries and becoming hot decided to cool off by taking a bath in the cave. While in the water he became cramped and was drowned before assistance could reach him. He was an adopted son of James McCarty and a boy of splendid habits and promise.

As the INTERIOR JOURNAL's business manager is secretary of the fair and its foreman and compositors all belong to the band that is to furnish music for the occasion, we will send out our next issue Thursday morning, instead of Friday. Correspondents will please observe and send their favors a day earlier. If the fair was longer we would get another force and issue daily, but it wouldn't pay for two days only.

WITH delightful shade, the promise of splendid weather and the assurance of an excellent display of stock, we see no reason why the Fair will not be a success in every sense of the word. The amphitheatre has been completed and is much more comfortable than the one of last year. Everything is in readiness and when the tap of the bell is heard Thursday morning we predict that it will be the beginning of the biggest Fair that Lincoln county has ever known. Come, bring your family and spend a couple of days both pleasantly and profitably.

CAPT. ROBINSON.—Everybody who travels on the Knoxville Division of the L. & N. knows what an obliging and popular conductor Capt. J. S. Robinson is but he is such a quiet, unobtrusive man that few know his history. When the tocsin of war sounded he was a headless, undersized boy of 15, but he determined to cast his fortunes with the Lost Cause. Owing to his youth and size, he had great difficulty in enlisting, but the colonel of the 2d Kentucky Infantry finally took him, when he saw his persistence in the determination to become a soldier. There were 1,104 men in the regiment and Capt. Robinson had the distinction of being the youngest and one of the bravest. He fought through the war and was badly wounded three times. At the close of hostilities he returned to his home in Kentucky, where he was one day attacked by some home guards. He was in a buggy going to call on his best girl, when they seized his horse's bridle and ordered him to stop. He had a huge army pistol under the seat, which he quickly drew and shot one of the men down, his audacity so non-plussing the others that he was enabled to get away. Believing that he could not live in safety at his home longer, he continued to drive until next morning found him 90 miles from the scene of his encounter with the cowards. He then resolved to go to Tennessee, finally locating in Nashville, where he built the most important of the street railroads and ran them until his health demanded a change. He then went on the railroad and since 1870 has been with the L. & N., whose officers hold him in the highest esteem. The captain is nearing the 50th mile post in the journey of life now, but he carries his age well and doesn't look it by 10 years. We hope he will live to be as old as Capt. Matt Lowe, whose age is as great as his cleverness and accommodating disposition are unequalled.

YOUR account is due. Please call and settle it at once. A. A. Warren.

THERE are now three sizes of postal cards and all are to be abandoned. The postmaster general says that he is going to adopt one size for all, 3 1/2 by 5 1/2 inches.

QUITE a number of those who took stock in the Fair have not yet paid in their cash. This is, of course, merely neglect, but Treasurer McClary would be glad if you would hand in or send him the money at once.

THE placing of several hydrants in the Cemetery fills a long felt want of the owners of lots there, who desire to raise flowers and beautify the homes of their beloved dead. Heretofore it has been almost impossible to keep shrubbery alive there during the hot and dry summer months; now no one has excuse to neglect his lot.

VOTERS should take into consideration the question whether a candidate is worthy and capable of filling the office to which he aspires, instead of voting for him blindly because he advocates some alleged policy that agrees with their ideas, and which he will stand no more chance of accomplishing than the man in the moon. Apply the old Jeffersonian rule as to qualification for office and you will not be disappointed with the man you elect.

THERE was a colored party in the country Saturday night and Will Blakeley and Julian Stewart wanted to attend. They had no horse and but little money and it was too far to walk, so they thought they would borrow Mr. Adam Pence's horse. They failed to ask Mr. Pence, however, and soon Sunday morning he had them arrested for their familiarity and cast in prison, where they remained till yesterday, when a fine of $5 each was assessed against them and they were returned to jail, notwithstanding they swore that they hired the horse of Willis Guest.

—Sam Jones drew 5,000 people to the High Bridge camp meeting Sunday. Within the camp grounds there was no disorder, but on the hill-sides and in the river bottom there was quite a gathering of toughs, who were supplied with intoxicants and made things lively. Two small steamers, both equipped with saloons, ran hourly excursions down the river. Flying dutchmen, red lemonade vendors, fakirs and other sharks were numerous.

PUBLIC SALE.

The undersigned, as agent and attorney in fact of the heirs of John S. Hays, decd., will on Wednesday, Aug. 30, '93,

On the premises at public outcry sell to the highest and best bidder the Farm consisting of

About 240 Acres of Land,

Of which the late John S. Hays died possessed, said Farm is situated near Stanford, Ky., and lies near and on the Stanford and Hustonville turnpike road and is bounded by the farms of Forestus Reid, Wm. Beck, Mrs. Allen Farris, Wm. Hays and others. This is a desirable place, in the vicinity of Stanford. It lies well for cultivation and the soil yields a rich return to good husbandry. The Farm has upon it a weatherboarded log house of 6 or 8 rooms, under which there is a dry cellar, at all times; a large and commodious barn and other necessary outbuildings. There is in the yard a fine well of cool, pure and living water and a so near the house a good spring, and for stock purposes two good ponds on the farm. In short, it is one of the pleasantest places in the county to live in and of its neighborhood environment.

Terms of Sale:—One-third cash in hand and the remainder of the purchase money in one and two years in equal installments, with 6 per cent. interest from day of sale until paid, and lien retained on the farm to secure the deferred payments, payable to the undersigned.

The Farm will be surveyed to the purchaser and full possession will be given on the first day of January, 1894, but for seedling, about 50 acres now in corn, the purchaser will have the right to put said land in small grain and the right of ingress and egress for that purpose to the place.

A. C. WARREN,

Agent and Attorney in Fact for John S. Hays' Heirs.
